Survey for Name for Field Formerly Known as “Credentials”

At the last JCIC meeting, it was decided that the field “Credentials” in the Human Resources data set needed a new name. This field will contain the Taxonomy codes describing each employee’s area of specialty. To find a field name that is more acceptable, we are conducting a survey. Please e-mail Dennis Moore (Dennis.Moore@rdmc.org) with your preference for the new name. So far, the names “Taxonomy Code” and “Discipline” have received votes. The name that receives the majority of votes will be the new official name for this field.
